

Lake Rake Information

Note: This was summarized in March 2008 for the information of Sandstone flowage association members. Many sources are available on the internet however it appears that many of these companies sell devices manufactured by Midwest Aqua Care. The below information focuses on rakes rather than cutters to better assure that the plant that was broken off/pulled out was also removed. Most of the below also sell cutters which are more expensive than rakes. All come with ropes attached and are advertised as being made of aluminum, most come with handle extensions. Individuals should make their own contacts and decisions about this matter, unless the Association membership decides otherwise at the Spring 2008 meeting.
